The game supports two-player offline play and multiplayer online play using GameSpy's PlayStation 3 Live. Gameplay WSC Real 11 is a wargame featuring realistic graphics, physics and game play, representing eleven of the professional snooker players in the World Snooker Championship. The player is free to choose either a training, tournament or exhibition match mode. The rules can be either real, fast or slow, and the AI can be customized to resemble one of four snooker players. These are John Higgins, Stephen Hendry, Joe Perry and Mark Williams. Players can choose to compete in any of the fifteen matches in the current season or in past seasons. Players can bet on matches with real-money, which is displayed on the leaderboards. The game features online play, including the ability to set up and join sessions with other players and the ability to challenge a player. The game uses GameSpy's PlayStation 3 Live service to support online multiplayer. Realism The game is very similar to Championship Manager. The player has the opportunity to bring a team together by attracting different types of players, who can have different attributes and skills that can contribute to the team's success. When in a match, the player can control the key players on the match with the help of tactics and decisions. When players reach the end of a match, their statistics will be shown to the player. The player can set up his or her own team and start playing the game. Release The game was released in September 2009.
